design reduces both the number of connections to the aggregation and core layer and to the number of managed switches; it also reduces the STP domain. Therefore, you agreed with the service provider to use OSPF as the routing protocol between the CE and PE routers. The PIM-SM (S, G) state rules are as follows: (S, G) creation: The receipt of an (S, G) join or prune message. NAT64 b. If a redundant or common passive LAN exists, a switch capable of IGMP snooping is required. QoS deployment and change management: This feature enables you to quickly set and enforce QoS priority policies, while remaining confident that network devices automatically stay in compliance.
